Always Aiming for
Ultimate Satisfaction

At Nationwide Windows & Doors, we don't install windows into houses – we install them into homes and regardless of description – tenants, residents, householders – the people who live in the homes in which we work are ultimately our customers, and they and their property demand respect and care. Recognising this, being sensitive to individual needs and instilling these values across our installation teams and RLOs is a key part of our culture. It's only through achieving ultimate satisfaction among all our customers that any project can be considered successful.

Here are some comments from our householder customers...

"I'm thrilled with my new windows and doors. They bring such brightness into my flat and the 3 lads who worked here were a joy. I treated them all to bacon batches and barley iced water. In this day when young and old feel divided, it was nice to have my faith restored. Now I can settle down in my paradise."
Mrs G – Rugby

"The contractors that visited my home were polite and courteous during their time here. The window fitting is of a good standard and has made a vast improvement to the property, both with the efficiency of heating and cosmetically. Thank you Nationwide Windows & Doors."
Miss B – Manor Estate

"With Nationwide Windows & Doors the workmanship, quality, time taken was excellent and any mess they cleared themselves. Everyone knew what was happening and got on with their jobs effectively. Bleddyn and his team showed and treated myself, family and my home with respect and good manners. I wish more people have these fine qualities and I can't speak highly enough of the team – they didn't just go the extra mile, they went the extra furlong and I would recommend them to anyone including family and friends."
Ms T – Clipstone, Notts.

*"Well done Nationwide Windows & Doors fitters. You did a fantastic job. I worked as a plasterer for 50 years and I know a good tradesman when I watch them go about their business.
